Did you know ...

Automotive service technician careers offer an excellent opportunity for good pay and the satisfaction of highly skilled work with vehicles incorporating the latest in advanced technology.

Employment of automotive service technicians is expected to increase as fast as the average through the year 2014.

Employment growth will continue to be concentrated in automobile dealerships and independent automotive repair shops.

Automotive service technicians in large shops have increasingly become specialized.

Learn more about ...

AUTOMOTIVE ANALYSIS & REPAIR

For more information about this program, contact the faculty:

William Roche, Professor of Automotive Analysis and Repair, wroche@dcc.vccs.edu, 434.797.8534; 1.800.560.4291, ext. 8534

Danny Rakes, Associate Professor of Automotive Analysis and Repair; drakes@dcc.vccs.edu, 434.797.8521; 1.800.560.4291, ext. 8521

It’s easy to get started ...

1. Complete an application for admissions
2. Take the COMPASS assessment
3. Meet with a DCC Counselor to discuss your assessment results and program placement
4. Meet with a DCC Adviser in your program of study to select and register for classes
5. Pay for your classes!

Vision: Danville Community College will be the college of choice in our region for exemplary educational programs and services.

Mission: Danville Community College is committed to providing quality comprehensive higher education and workforce programs and services to promote student success and to enhance business and community development.
Danville Community College’s Automotive Analysis and Repair program trains you for jobs in a rapidly-growing profession, servicing motor transportation vehicles.

Jobs ...

The following occupational titles represent examples of possible employment opportunities:

- Auto Parts Counter Clerk
- Diagnostician
- Automotive Technician
- Service Manager
- Automotive Dealer
- Automotive Machinist
- Automotive Dealer Service Manager
- Service Representative

About the program ...

- The DCC program, which is certified by the National Automotive Technicians Education Foundation, Inc., includes theoretical and practical experiences in engine tune up, emission control servicing, automatic transmission servicing, power train servicing, electrical system diagnosis, and maintenance.
- You can earn a Diploma in Automotive Analysis and Repair if you complete a minimum of 80 credits with a 2.0 grade point average or better.

Salary ...

- Median hourly earnings of automotive service technicians, including commission, were $15.60 in 2004.
- The highest percent of automotive service technicians and mechanics earned more than $26.22 per hour.
- The middle percent of automotive service technicians and mechanics earned between $11.31 and $20.75 per hour.